

Aeonium sp.

eye-O-nee-um

Common Names: Tree Houseleek, Irish Rose, Black Rose, Branching Succulent

Family: Crassulaceae

Origin: North Africa, Canary Islands, Mediterranean

Growth: Clumping, branching

Light: Bright

Foot Candles: 200 - 250+

Water: Allow to completely dry

Humidity: Not required

Temperature: 18°C+

Soil: Cactus mix

Container: Self-watering or pot with drainage

Nutrients: 10-5-5 Spring & Summer

Propagation: Seed, leaf pullings, or removal of pups

Interiorscape Use: Tabletop, desert-themed atrium

Common Pests: Mealybugs, Aphids, Spider Mites, Scale, Thrips.

Common Issues: Easily rots when over-watered. Prone to stretching with insufficient light.

Comments: Includes 35 different species. Often confused with Echeveria which has fatter leaves. Plants may go dormant when exposed to extreme heat. The leaf rosettes will die off after flowering. Available in many growth habits and colours.

Toxicity: Safe.

AQUATOPIA

WATER GARDEN CONSERVATORY